ARTS REVIVE AND GALLERY 905- SELMA

3 Church Street, Selma, AL, 36702 www.artsrevive.com

The Black Belt region of Alabama is rich in talented artists with a desire to share their gifts. As you journey through the area, fertile soil gives way to a town rich in history and abundant with historic structures and surroundings that inspire creativity. Artworks from over 40 artists, with the majority being local, can be admired.

CHARLIE "TIN MAN" LUCAS' STUDIO- SELMA

9 Lauderdale Street, Selma, Alabama 36701 *By Appointment Only

Known for his knack at recycling metal and other materials into 3-D works, Charlie Lucas turned a hobby into a profession. He has lectured at Yale and painted in Paris. His story and works also appear in more than 40 books.

EDMUND PETTUS BRIDGE- SELMA

Broad Street Selma AL, 36703 www.selma-al.gov

The Edmund Pettus Bridge, now a National Historic Landmark, was the site of the brutal Bloody Sunday beatings of civil rights marchers during the first Selma march for voting rights. The televised attacks were seen all over the nation, prompting public support for the civil rights activists in Selma and for the voting rights campaign. After Bloody Sunday, protestors were granted the right to continue marching, and two more marches across the bridge for voting rights followed.

MILLER'S POTTERY BY ALLEN HAM- BRENT

2324 AL-5, Brent, AL 35034 www.blackbelttreasures.com

Allen Ham is a sixth generation potter and the youngest member of the Ham-Miller family of potters. He was trained mainly in his grandfather Hendon Miller's shop in Brent and was one of the primary turners at Miller Pottery after Hendon's death. Often using ash glaze clay from Perry County, each piece is made by hand as it has been for 6 generations with the same local clay source.

MOORE-WEBB-HOLMES PLANTATION- MARION

28011 AL-14, Marion, AL 36756 334-683-9955 Or 205-292-6356. *By Appointment Only

Located just west of Marion, this is one of Alabama's last active plantations and has been in the same family since the early 1800s. Most of the buildings are original to the site and include the log seed house where the very first, and second, gin was put to use, a carriage house, smoke house, chicken coop, a potato house with a pit for vegetable storage, and a blacksmith shop along with many other essential buildings to sustain life during that period. A two-story Federal/Greek Revival style house with clapboards covering the original log structure is on site, as well.

OLD CAHAWBA ARCHEOLOGICAL PARK- ORRVILLE

9518 Cahaba Rd, Orrville, AL 36767 www.cahawba.com

Old Cahawba is Alabama's most famous ghost town. In 1819 the town was carved out of the wilderness to be the state's first capital. Although the state changed the location of the capital in 1826, Cahawba continued to grow into a thriving and wealthy river town.

PERRY LAKES PARK- MARION

AL-175, Marion, AL 36756 www.perrylakes.org

The Perry Lakes Park and Wildlife Sanctuary contains about 600 acres available to the public for outdoor recreation, education, scientific and research. Walking through the woods is fairly easy and fun. The park features a unique birding tower, pavilion and restroom facilities designed and constructed by Auburn University's Rural Studio Program.
